"PROBLEM DRINKERS"

Maybe he's someone you know. Maybe he's a neighbor or a chap from the office or a fellow you knew in the service. A good guy—except! How do you feel about him? Is his problem his business, his family's, the government's? Should he be punished or coddled? . . . Can he be cured? In this forceful new film, MARCH OF TIME shows you in action the many ways in which America's fourth largest public health menace is being tackled. For example, you've often heard of "Alcoholics Anonymous": here you'll see how AA works—in the dramatic story of one man's battle against alcoholism. This picture pulls no punches, speaks straight to everyone who has ever worried about someone who "can't leave it alone." It will have special interest for you who read the major picture-essay on Liquor to which LIFE devoted 12 pages of its May 27 issue.
